MONARCH '64

By Abraham Lincoln Yearbook Staff

After 13 years of school service to the school and to the students, Abraham Lincoln's principal is retiring at the close of the school year. A competent administrator as well as a friend to the students, Dr. Kennedy has seen Lincoln grow from a small post-war school to one rich in tradition. It is to him that this yearbook is dedicated.

Graduated from San Jose High School, Dr. Kennedy continued his education at Stanford. His postgraduate work gave him a degree in administration. Before coming to Lincoln in 1950, he held various administrative positions at Almaden Elementary School, Willow Glen Elementary and Junior High School and San Jose High.

To Dr. Kennedy we say "THANK YOU" and hope he has enjoyed his years at Lincoln.

Foreign Exchange Students

This year Lincoln had the pleasure of hosting Anita Robalino as our Foreign Exchange student. An Equadorian by birth, Anita has easily adopted to the American ways. Her year in the United States has provided her with many fond memories to take back to her native Guayquil, and indeed, the Lincoln students have had the pleasureable experience of just knowing her.

Of her days at Lincoln Anita states, "I still find it hard to express in English all I feel, but I'll tell you that in this year at Lincoln, I have had such a good time, a most exciting one, and I'll never forget all you have done for me, especially my American parents, the Pages, and my foster sister, Susan."

As Lincoln's American Field Service representative, John Kocal spent three months last summer in Spain. Most of the summer was spent living with his foster family in Valencia, Spain. During that time he had the opportunity to observe the Spanish way of life, the people and their cities. John returned not only with unforgettable memories, but with the knowledge that he has helped to further world understanding.

Sadie

This year Sadie went to the city. She enjoyed such sights as "Hollywood and Vine," "Broadway," and the crowning of the Twirp Day Queen, Gwen Odom. Highlight of her evening was the dancing, the all-girl singing quartet, and the marriage ceremony performed by his honor, Mike Boswell.

Day

Lions and Bulldogs lined the walls for the annual Big Bone Ball entitled, "The Tournament of the Bone." The Overfelt High School Dance Band provided the music for this annual event.

"The bone stayed home!"

Big Bone Nov. 27

Reigning over the Big Bone Dance and Game were the schools' respective queens. Representing Lincoln was Maryann Rose and for San Jose, Pam Hanson. The queens were selected by the students and crowned by the team captains.

"Silent Night" themed the annual Christmas Dance.

The choir performed several numbers at the annual Christmas assembly held for students and faculty. During the assembly the numbers were recorded for future sale.

Christmas Holidays

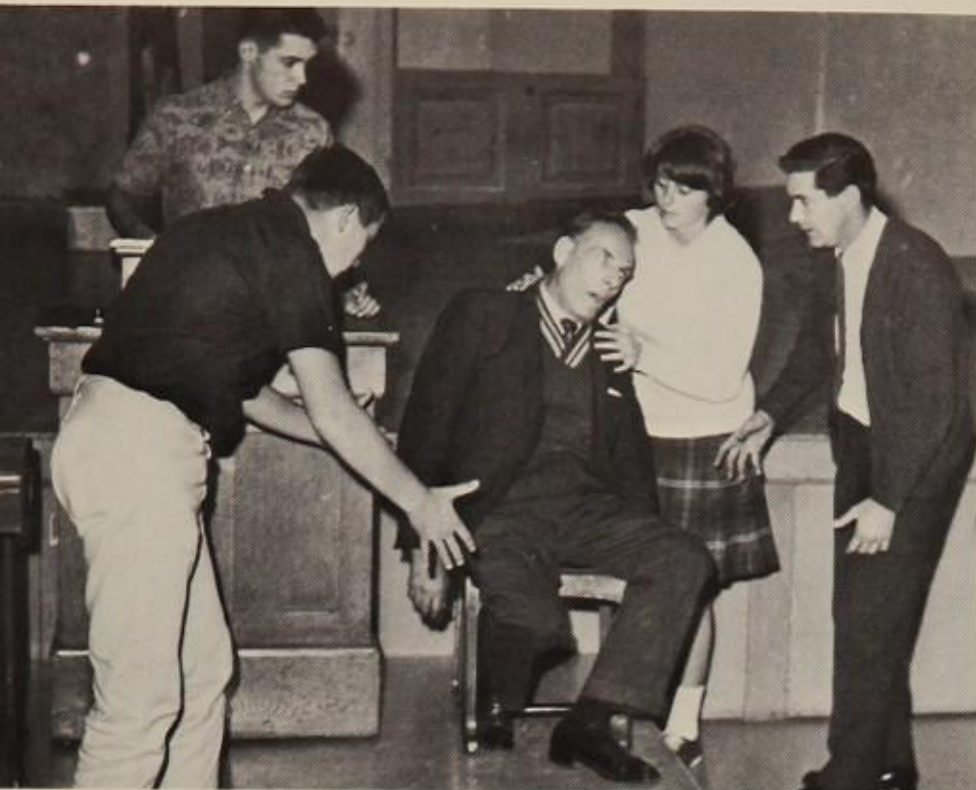

Dec. 18

Music for the dance was under the direction of Mr. Collins. Highlight of the evening was the vocal numbers by Lincoln's music instructor.

Decorations were in a winter theme. Couples danced around a large branch sprayed with snow and covered with angel hair. Tables were decorated with ornaments and sprigs of mistletoe.

Above are two courtroom scenes from the rehearsal of the All-School Play "Inherit the Wind" presented January 1, 17, and 18. Faculty as well as students participated in the successful production.

This year's football squad, ranked first by pre-season polls, flashed to a '9-0 undefeated season. Head coach Wayne Howard summed up this year's club as "A team that was willing to sacrifice." The clawing Lion offense rolled up 253 points to lead the league in scoring while playing little more than one half in all but two games. The strong Lincoln defense gave up only 13 points while the reserves allowed 107. Lincoln swept top honors in all-league selections, placing 12 men, 7 first, 3 second, 2 honorable mention, on the team.

In Memoriam JFK

1917 - 1963

Almost three years ago a handsome, young gentleman stood near the Capitol Building in Washington, D. C., and delivered with great impact an eloquent and forceful Inaugural Address. Said the newly-elected President of United States, "In the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hour of maximum danger. I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it." And indeed, John Fitzgerald Kennedy gave his time, talents, and even his life to meet the responsibilities which that role entailed.

As a statesman, political leader, and chief executive of the United States, John F. Kennedy had many opponents. But as a man with the courage, perseverance, and willingness to do his best for the nation which he loved and represented and for the world, to which he was the leader of the greatest free-world nation, he was respected by those opponents.

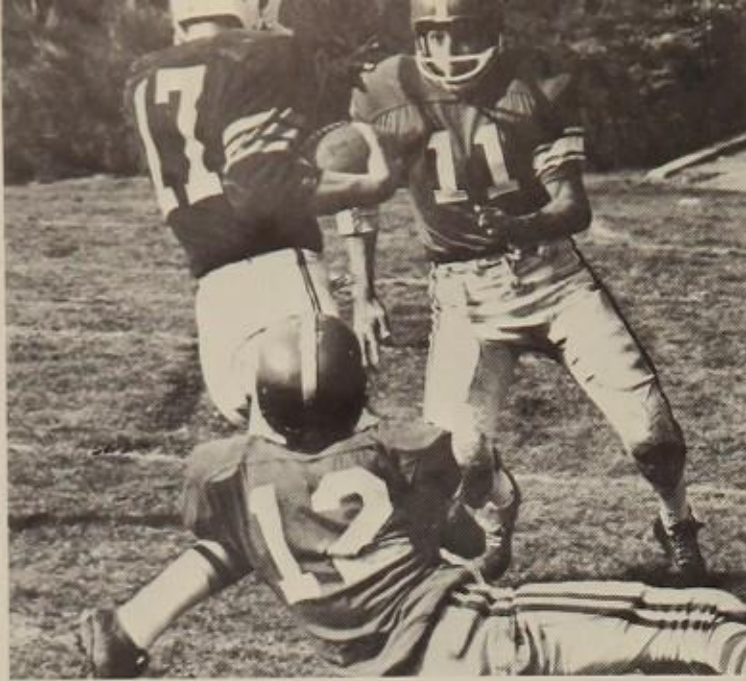

He brought to the White House for the first time in many years a spirit of youth, of unboundless energy, and a profound wit and humor. In an instance that spirit, that energy, that wit and humor were no more. He was only forty-seven years old when he died—a man so young, so alive, and with so much yet to give.

But in that short span of mortal life he gave much of himself. He gave us fine ideals and worthy goals, and more important, he gave of himself so that others might follow his example. He once quoted an old Chinese proverb which stated, "A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step." John F. Kennedy took that first step, and to those who will take the second, and third, and the infinite number of steps that must follow, this is his imprint, and they are his legacy.

"The energy, the faith, the devotion we bring to this endeavor," said John F. Kennedy that January morning in 1961, "will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world." It is most fitting to add that the energy, the faith, the devotion which John Fitzgerald Kennedy gave to his endeavors truly lights this country with a glow that will shine throughout the world.
